NORMANN COPENHAGEN INTRODUCES TRIN, A SCULPTURAL CANDLE HOLDER IN A FAMILIAR MATERIAL

Normann Copenhagen introduces a new candle holder design by Munich-based studio Constantin Wortmann, Büro für Form. Combining sculptural elegance with simple functionality, the Trin Candle Holder is a striking design object for all interiors.

Inspired by the warmth and familiarity of traditional wreaths, Trin balances geometric precision with organic softness. A simple ring anchors four tiered cylinders — a reference to its name, Trin, the Danish word for “steps.” This distinctive structure of candlesticks in shifting levels allows for endless combinations of candles in varying heights and colors, encouraging creativity and personal expression.

Cast in rough sand-cast iron, Trin conveys weight, permanence, and tactility. Its raw materiality contrasts with the delicate glow of candlelight, creating a compelling visual interplay that complements both classic and contemporary settings.

Whether used as a candle holder or displayed as a sculptural object, Trin lends warmth and character to any space in all seasons. With Trin Candle Holder, Normann Copenhagen continues to refine its collection of thoughtful design accessories that connect people and spaces — making everyday moments matter.

This product is scheduled to be available online and in stores in September 2026.

CONNECTING PEOPLE AND SPACES

Since Normann Copenhagen's foundation in 1999, our ambition has been to challenge conventional thinking and make the ordinary extraordinary through great design. By combining the craftsmanship, functionality and endurance characterized by our Danish design heritage with modern silhouettes and durable materials, we aim to create original products in a contemporary design that withstand the test of time. We believe in uniting people and spaces across the world and improving the quality of people's lives through the power of great design. Our products combine functionality and design and accommodate the diversity of needs of modern life in residential and professional interiors alike.
